

UW PARTNERS IN SUSTAINABILITY

At the University of Washington, sustainability is in our nature. Departments across the University in academics, operations and administration all work on sustainability efforts across the institution. The UW Sustainability office collaborates with various offices and departments on our campuses to implement projects and programs. Our campus partners work within their areas of expertise to advance sustainability at the UW, in conjunction with UW Sustainability and the University's Environmental Stewardship Committee.

UW Sustainability coordinates institution-wide reporting and tracking of these activities, while also providing information, connections and resources to a network of campus departments, centers and offices. Managing this University-wide network facilitates efficiency, transparency and access to information for our students, faculty and staff. Together, we are working to ensure a sustainable future.

 UW entities who manage and support sustainability goals and activities. UW Sustainability coordinates and tracks this. Circle size reflects level of involvement.
